2 Membership Class

- Sustaining Member
The Sustaining Member class is for leading organizations involved in renewable energy markets. Sustaining Members include green power and REC marketers, utilities, equipment manufacturers, renewable energy project developers, and others greatly invested in renewable energy markets.
- Sustaining Member, Temporary
Same as "Sustaining Member" above, but duration is six months only.
- Supporting Member
The Supporting Member class is for organizations that find renewable energy markets to be an important but not core part of their business. Supporting Members include those already involved or planning to be involved in renewable energy markets.
- Supporting Member, Temporary
Same as "Supporting Member" above, but duration is six months only.
- Brokerage Firms
This membership category includes organizations who are solely engaged in transaction assistance and market information for the buying and selling of Renewable Energy Certificates (RECs) or other environmental commodities. Members eligible for this class cannot sell, intend to sell, purchase or generate renewable energy.
- Consumer Member
The Consumer Member class includes consumers and potential consumers of renewable energy and Renewable Energy Certificates (RECs). Organizations that sell or intend to sell any purchased or generated renewable energy to third parties are not eligible for this class.
